Secretary's Message

We, at PGVS, envisage for a society where everyone feels equal, gets fullest opportunity to develop, lives an inclusive and life of fullness. We are committed to our mission of making everyone capable to avail and have access to all human rights without that living with dignity is not possible. I am aware of sufferings and challenges of marginalized classes, particularly of persons with disabilities, children, women, and socially peripheral communities and their struggle for survival and sustenance. This necessitates for uniting and empowering the deprived classes to break 'culture of silence' and strive to correct unjust structures, systems, and process of power relations in order for justice to become distributive and delegated in society. I draw immense satisfaction to see that through PGVS work in communities, women and persons with disabilities are organizing into self-help groups, Landless people aware of their rights and demanding and raising their voices for their land rights, farmers becoming conscious of environment protection and practicing ecological methods of agriculture, Poor children are provided knowledge on importance of Education and care and protection and vulnerable communities adopting to risk reduction measures and becoming resilient. Now Each Household is becoming aware about safe Water and Improved Sanitation and practicing it in their daily life. In this context, I along with PGVS family pledge to unleash our potentials to ensure that each member of the society lives a healthy, educated and prosperous life and develops within oneself a desire to protect human being and conserve nature for the forthcoming generations so that they too would have the right to live in a clean and safer environment. I thank and congratulate community members, government departments, donor partners and support groups, civil society organizations, media, academic institutions, business houses and all PGVS staff for their dedicated and committed work towards making the world a safer place for all living being, where justice prevails and equality restored.

Best wishes

Mr. Pradeep Priyadarshi
Secretary, PGVS, BIHAR

- Respondents noted how they now have access to better food and improved nutrition
- They have greater awareness of agricultural techniques and can generate extra income from selling vegetables
- Productivity is higher as they have improved access to fertilizer. Also on a collective farm, every operation takes place on time. For a family farm, due to labour non-availability (e.g. farmers may sometimes need to hire in workers for key tasks), workers are sometimes not available for a key stage of the production cycle– and cultivation becomes delayed. On a collective farm though, everyone works in a group, so accessing labour for tasks such as transplantation is never a problem.

Summary of Progress (Activity Wise)

I. Capacity building of Anganwadi workers:

Objective: Develop school readiness skills among the children and provide training on preparing low cost TLM materials for children and provide with refresher on child development, child psychology, and early literacy and math skills.

Process:

This year 50 AWWs were trained for 5 days in 5 Months, Khizarsarai block, Gaya. The training was given on important developmental domains namely physical development, Language development, social development, emotional development and cognitive development. The training was given by Mrs. Bharti Chauhan. She has a great experience in this area. The main objective of these training is overcoming inhibitions, critically understanding inclusion and learning inclusive activities. And also understanding the components of all 5 developments and its importance through activities. At the first time in training the question were asked by our resources person to Anganwadi Workers that what kind of expectation they have from this training and what kind of training they are looking for.

The training was provided on following topics:

1. Social development,
2. Language development
3. Mental development
4. Spiritual development
5. Physical development.

Phase: I

Capacity building of Anganwadi Workers for easy way of learning. Learning is the change of behavior acquired by individual experience. In the first training, briefly information given on Save the children and Pragati Gramin Vikas Samiti. Also interact with the Anganwadi workers. Similarly, again All Anganwadi workers were played an interesting game named “Machli jal ki rani hai, Haathi ka baccha gol gol acha, Chiraye uri etc. It was very important how we concentrate on our different actions.

Following this, the trainer talk about Anganwadi centres and also summarized on government planning like early child education vaccination, nutrition sanitation maternal and health etc. after the training AWWs shared that this was the first time they had received such beneficial training. They could see the result in the children as the children were enthusiafic and demanded their parents to take them to Anganwadi daily. Consequently, AWWs were played two games through BAL Geet so that they can execute these games at their AWCs among the children. Those games are as follows “Dagardu Raja Bane Mahan” Ek din Ek unganli Naach Rai thi”

With this game first day session was wind up with the expectation that on the next training others parts will be covered with actions.

Phase: 2

In Phase 2, we discussed about what is the benefit of sitting in circle? Some Anganwadi workers were answered that we can see each other easily; all are engaging in activity, we can see what other people are doing etc. Similarly, again we started game” Dibi Dibi Dappe” in this game it was very important how fast we passed the named. From this activity they easily remember each other name.

The main purposed behind this activity was to let the children prepare their own imagination with the help of the low cost materials so that their learning level towards this art can be strengthening. How they can make children even more vocal with the help of different poems.

Phase: 3

The main purpose of this phase was to “Analyse the quality among children and their capacity building”.

This phase was started as a game “Zip Zap”. After that we played an Ulta hath and Sida hath game. On the other hand Registration of Participants and distribution of kit. After that we started our training as a review of last month training. Our Didi asked to workers who remember what we have done in last month training? Some of Anganwadi workers have shared their points like: Different types of clapping (Roti clap, Laddu clap, Rotla clap etc), Rail gaadi Balgeet, Hathi ka bachha, Chotte bachhe baja bajate, Making cap, Boat etc.

Didi has asked to workers that what you have done with children in Anganwadi centre? What changes have comes?

Some Anganwadi workers replied Children attendance has increase, children were started to speak themselves, their parents were happy, and children were started to sitting in circle.

In today’s training we are going to focus on language development.

What is language development?

Why language is important?

Is language important?

After that we have done small activity on understanding the concept of language development. We distributed one newspaper and flash cards to all workers and tell that whatever a picture you like from newspaper cut it that picture and paste on flash cards. From that picture all workers have to make a story.

After that we sang a Balgeet “Tarbuza Tarbuza, Papita papita, Chiku chiku chiku falo ka salad.

After the balgeet we distributed ice cream stick to workers and tell that make a puppet with the help of stick and make a story on puppet.

- How to bring innovative among the children
- Development of social awareness among the children
- Phase: 4
- In phase 4, the main purpose behind this activity was to sharing of knowledge so that new ideas can come out. PGVS and STC trained Anganwadi Workers on important aspect of different domains which are physical, language, social and emotional development required for children. Training started as a game like human chain. All Anganwadi workers are very actively participated. And also it was very interesting game. Also we played a game like Coconut and coconut tree and sang a poem with the action Touch the head, touch the head, Touch the shoulder, touch the shoulder, Touch the knee, touch the knee, Touch the feet, and touch the feet. After that we have given cutting chart paper and Pictorial chart like fruit chart, vegetable chart, birds chart, transport charts etc. and all workers cut the pictorial charts and stick on flash chart paper.
- Phase: 5
- The main components which were covered in the last training are like how to make children vocal and communicative so that children can be able to speak fluently. The main objective for this training is recaps of all last training which are provided by PGVS and STC. So our resources person asked to do one one activity which we have done in last 4 training. In this training Anganwadi have learn different methodologies to enhance children's school readiness skills also they will understand about importance of language development through action song in rhythm.

Achievements: -

After the training it has been observed that earlier Anganwadi workers were engaged in their own daily activities whatever skills they had they used to apply on the betterment of the children. After the training they have started implementing their skills in their Anganwadi centers. They have now also emphasized on how to make low cost materials. Consequently, mothers have appreciated this move and said that now they are also teaching their children at home in their free time.

Challenges:

The biggest challenge is that being a Government employee Anganwadi workers are involved in different activities consequently they are not able to continue with this creativeness as every time they are put in multiple programs that's the biggest challenge.

I. Strengthening of Mothers Group

Objective: Mothers create awareness among themselves on importance of early childhood education and development domains also educate them on basic health and hygiene, nutrition, maternal childcare and child rearing.

Process:

In this activity all MG groups gather together and discussions are done with all of them on the various issues. Like Awareness about child education and how education is so important for the life of their children. And also discuss about cleanliness, health, government planning for support to improve learning level of their children learning. Mother groups are informed about different social welfare programs so that they can get benefited. The objective of this activity to empower the women, awareness and also allowing them to take part in various activities outside of the house. Since, in the Anganwadi centre primarily focus on poor and malnourished group, and nursing the pregnant women. In this activity all women actively participate.

- Firstly, Prayer has done 'jai jagat'
- Given introduction about PGVS and Save the children.
- Interact with all the women Participate in Mother's Group.
- Given information on Sukaniya Samridhi Yojana
- As a group activity, in this activity women were used for making a roll of color paper and stick on chart paper as a collage work on a outline of the numerical and triangle, circle, square and rectriangle.

2. After that, all women were enjoyed playing game "Ghosla Ghar" it was very interesting game.

Innovative Support for Aanganwadi Centres

Objective:

To provide teaching learning materials to AWCs so that children will get acquainted with school readiness skills

Process: Our goal behind giving some material to create interactive learning environment in all 50 Anganwadi centres is being proven by the support of material which we have given in Anganwadi centre

Participants
Female	Male
654	414

3. Aanganwadi Development Plans

Process:

In this activity all the member is included like ward sadisay, ASHA, Panch, Teachers, Tola Sevak, Sevika, and Mukiya. This entire member oriented in developing Anganwadi development plan for the Anganwadi centres. This will in turn encourage Anganwadi Workers to develop the plan for their centres by involving the mothers group. Once the member finalized the Anganwadi development plan then it has been share with CDPO office.

4. Celebration of different days at AWCs

Objectives of the activity: The main objective behind this activity is to attract young children to come to centers regularly and for that AWWs continuously keep doing different activities and encourage them to create interest in children through fun activities children learns their required developmental skills.

Process: Every month one specific day we are doing Celebration of different days at AWCs because of to attract young children to come to centres regularly. In this activity which is being done at the one place same activity is done at all places. The prime focus here is that children and at the same time their parents are also involved in it. In this activity people of all age group participated equally. Senior persons of the village also came and they share their experience with the children. On the other hand children also marched a rally on the awareness of education and sanitation.

Achievements: - Through this activity it has been observed that most of the parents have now started taking participated in the activities done with the children. Earlier it was observed the participation of Parents was quite less but now they have started coming to the centers with the purpose to support their children and not only that they also do participate and cooperate them. Now children are being given equal company by their parents and that thing children like the most earlier what used to happen they used to seek the support from their parents but now at least they are getting a place to get together and having some entertainment with their family with the supportive natures.

5. Orientation of AW Helpers

Process:

We have done Anganwadi Helpers training in CDPO training centre, Khizarsarai Block on 17th and 18th of November, 2016 and Training was facilitated by PGVS team. Training was started as a one small Balgeet “Jai Jagat” after that distribution of kit and registration (Note book, Button folder and pen) after that we have introduced about our organization work PGVS and STC and also we introduced our self each other.

After that we had a discussion on what is the objective to come here? OR what is the objective for this training?

Behind this training our main objective was to Anganwadi helpers will understand importance of health and hygiene and cleanliness in AWCs and their role and responsibilities.

And also we had brain storming on Do and don't with children. In training Anganwadi helpers shared that they have been called for first time for training after their joining. All AWHelpers were so much cooperative and actively participated.

Balgeet has done with action:

Haathi Ka Bachaa

Hum Gol tum Gol

Nav Chali Nav Chali Re

Hum Aage Aage Aate hai

Damak Damak Haathi Aata

Suraj Ke Desh me

Activities have done:

Nariyal Ped

Mirror Shapes

Storytelling and making

At the end of training last session we have given Crayons and A4 size paper to all AW helpers and tell that to make some picture whatever come in your mind and speak on that picture for a 2 minutes. Objective behind this activity those children will draw and think about that. Mental and Psychical development.

Specific Objective 2: By end of February 2017, To improve the learning level of children by creating a child friendly learning environment in schools, increasing child participation, community ownership and innovative teaching learning materials

Main Activities

2.1 Capacity building of teachers

Objective: From the inception of the project, teachers are trained on innovative teaching methodologies covering different themes on RTE Act, Learning Cycle, Learning Style, Learning

Pyramid and designing of TLM's keeping the focus on delivering quality education in all our targeted school.

Process: In this training 50 teachers were trained on Innovative teaching methodologies, Art integrated learning for the Primary and Middle school teachers consisting of arts in day-to-day activities, arts and arts education and integration of arts with other subjects. The participants were facilitated to prepare and present mock session on art integrated learning in primary and middle schools. The training was provided by two resource persons named Ram Singh and Bharti Chauhan who initiated the session with the 50 teachers of 8 clusters. Trainers also talked about "Pedagogy" in which he talked about how to understand the mentality of a child what are the components should be, because as long as we don't come to that conclusion it will be very difficult for us to understand the basic needs which need to be applied. On the other hand teachers were also shown movie on Gijubhai was one of the inspirational movies which teachers liked the most. Teachers looked so active at this and they did exactly the same thing to represent their group in an appropriate manner. So here the main concept behind holding this training was to how to train teachers so that they can infuse a sense teaching environment in the classrooms so that children can learn even in a better way and study can be made more valuable for prolong.

Participation:
